Our large force of track experts, who watch the workouts of the horses in training on all the Eastern tracks, assemble every nightstudy the entries on the Eastern races for the next day, and determine which is the surest winner on the card. They are assisted in their deliberations by two of the ablest handicappers in the country and have at their command all the inside stable information gathered through our various turf connections. The one horse which they decide upon is sent out by this Company to over 2,800 clients from Maine to California as the day's best bet, and the service is known as our Guaranteed One-Horse Per Day Wire. The terms and conditions of this wire are as follows:

We charge $10 for it. Immediately upon receipt of this fee we telegraph, telephone or hand you or your bookmaker, or both, as you may elect, the name of the horse, and continue daily to do so until the official opening track odds, as published in the morning news-papers, show that $50 has been won on a $29 flat bet daily on the horses given. If the first horse we send you in this series is at odds of 21, to 1, or better, and $50 is won at the first crack, a new subscription of $10 is called for. If it does not win $50 on a $20 flat bet, we continue to send you the One-Horse Wire daily until it is evident from the published opening odds that you have won $50 on a $20 flat bet, we continue to send you the One-Horse Wire daily until it is evident from the published opening odds that you have won $50 or a $20 flat bet one subscription, so long as the amount exceeds $50, there is no further payment to usexcent you have won $50 or $500 after beginning one subscription, so long as the amount exceeds $50, there is no further payment to usexcent the new $10 fee, and the prior account stands closed without retroacting against you. "IF THE THING IS SO GOOD WHY DON'T WE PLAY IT OURSELVES?" Well, we do. The stockholders of the Maxim & Gay Company back every horse sent in the series for thousands and their profits are tremendous. The object in selling the information is to make money in this direction also. We make it both ways: by playing the horses and by selling the information. Our incentive to sell it is that by having upward of $,000 persons betting $20 each day on the horse we send, we are practically having 20 per cent of that bet for us. That is to say, every day at least $12,000 is bet by its clients for the Maxim & Gay Company. You can easily calculate what we have at stake, and the tremendous efforts we are bound to make to get the very best information that can possibly be corralled as to the best and surest bet each day.

We invite you to join us. If you cannot place your own money, write us and we will refer you to any one of a dozen members of the Metropolitan Turf Association, who will place your money at the track for 5 per cent. of the profits.

Among Gloves There Are Aristocrats.

In the Aristocracy of Leather which is to be found in the CROSS stores there is one bright, particular star of the season-not better than the rest, but brighter for the moment, because the season of its demand is here.

Cross's S'urdy, Graceful, Mannish Glove for Women.

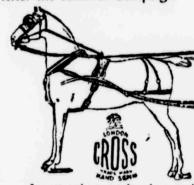

The man's glove for a woman was an idea created in the CROSS stores. It had to be like a man's glove in all material respects, but graceful in addition to its sturdiness and its soft, hand-sewn seams. The glove has proved most popular in London and New York. It is an aristocrat, born and bred-as unlike the vulgar attempts at imitation as the smartly gowned woman, with all the indefinable points of good breeding, is different from the parvenu.

One button-or two buttons if preferred-tan, white or black leather-all the CROSS quality and workmanship,

Replenishing the Stable After the Summer Campaign

Is not only a work of necessity, but a positive pleasure to the thorough horseman as well as the owner of equipages who prides himself on their appearance. In the five thousand feet of floor space in the great CROSS harness room there is a fresh assortment of brougham harness whose smartness and quality are standard among those who know. Considering the workmanship and highest grade material the prices are unexpectedly reason-

They have that same solid appearance as all the brass fittings of the French machines, and are as indispensable to the wellequipped automobile as the bull'seye lamps. A full assortment also of imported dashboard cases for brakes and carriages, in black and red patent leather and black and russet bridle leather.

Cross's Tan, White and Black Gloves for Men.

It was the general adoption of our English hand-sewn glove by modish men that suggested the man's glove for women. Its sturdiness and clean-cut appearance, fashionable fulness and cropping out of quality at every hand-sewn seam have brought to us every season an army of new friends-and the kind of friends worth having-men who appreciate the finest quality leather goods in the world. They are made in white for evening wear, in tan and black.
